The Conference

Following the success of our last edition, which brought 100+ senior level industry professionals to Brussels, we are delighted to be hosting the 2022 edition of the Summit on 16th-17th February in Antwerp, Belgium.

This year, the conference focus will look at the best strategies for sustainable packaging including recycling and packaging performance, with a stronger focus on the brands and retailers, who will share their thoughts and information on consumer experience and demands for next generation of packaging. Furthermore, the conference will also explore the European Commission's Circular Economy Package, and its impact in the entire supply chain dynamics.

Confirmed Topics for Discussion

- Food & Beverage Plastic Packaging European Legislation Overview
- Making Reusable and Recycled Packaging Solutions
- Improving Sustainability & Circular Economy
- Assessing the Possibilities of Applications in Chemical Recycling
- Looking at Innovation in Packaging Materials
- Acknowledging Future Directions in Plastic Packaging and Scientific Development
- Exploring New Plastic Recycling Technologies
- A Practical Approach on the Consumer's View

Who will be attending?

The two day event will bring together major brand owners, retailers, leading sustainability experts, packaging converters & manufacturers, plastic collectors & reclaimers, policy makers and major global organisations involved in the food & beverage plastic packaging industry.

This edition will create partnerships and cover the major concerns by debating with senior representatives of the industry. The event will tackle societal and environmental concerns by creating an opportunity for collaboration along the supply chain.
